Gentlemen:

In your line of work you probably have stenographic reporting to be done which requires the services of an expert. Would you like to have the World's Champion reporter do this work for you?

You will be guaranteed an absolutely accurate transcript--an exact "photograph" of every word--without paying any more for it than you pay to other reporters.

All reports will be delivered to you promptly, too. Clients are never delayed by this office, - every report receives my personal attention, on time.

It is impossible to extend this personal service to every one, but your name would be a welcome addition to the list of those who receive it regularly or when they have special work to be done.

Will you give me an opportunity to take this matter up with you in person some day this week? If you have nothing to offer me right now, you may have something later.

Just 'phone me when it will be convenient for you to see me, - any time that suits your convenience will be made to suit mine.

Very truly yours,

FS
HH

Gentlemen:

Very likely you failed to reply to my last letter because you didn't have any reporting work to be done or in contemplation when it reached you.

If that is your reason, may I suggest that reporters are usually called in an emergency? Why not prepare for such an emergency by selecting your reporter in advance? You do not obligate yourself in any way by asking me to call on you.

Just mention the day and the hour it will be most convenient for you to see me; I'll be on hand at the appointed time. Call Bryant 5348 or write a note on the bottom of this sheet. There is an addressed envelope enclosed for your convenience.

Very truly yours,

P. S. In this office the Stenotype is used. Would you like me to show you this wonderful machine and explain why it is your safeguard against inaccurate reports?

Gentlemen:

You may think I shouldn't write you so often. Or you may admire my persistent effort to add your name to my list of clients. In either case, please remember this: I'll try even harder to handle your reporting work satisfactorily.

If you could know how diligently I strive to satisfy those who engage me and how well I succeed, you would surely want me to serve you, too.

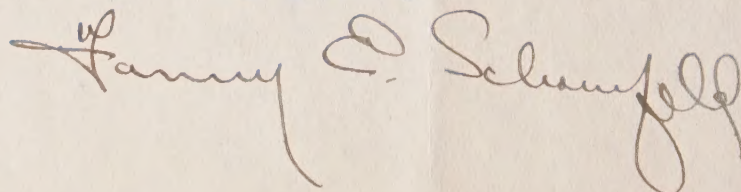

You should not put off calling me because you have no immediate reporting work to be done. If you have no other stenographic work than regular correspondence, I can help you.

If I can show you how your stenographers can do more work in less time and with less effort, wouldn't that be worth a few minutes of your time? Your stenographers would certainly appreciate it.

Understand, this service is absolutely free. Your good will is sufficient recompense. Isn't this a fair offer?

Call me up now, while you think of it. I'll arrange my work so I can come over to see you at any time that best suits your convenience.

Very truly yours,

FS
